

Why Work for Putnam Plastics?

Great People –When asked why they enjoy their jobs so much, Putnam Plastics employees indicate that one of the most important factors is the great people they work with. As a growing company with just over 200 employees, you will have the opportunity to collaborate with others up, down, and across the organization and create strong working relationships; whether it is with other employees, customers, or our vendors.

Company Future – Putnam Plastics has a distinguished past and an even brighter future. We have experienced growth, even during some of the most challenging economic times. As a result, employees are excited about where we are headed as an organization as well as the individual opportunities that may evolve.

Compensation & Benefits - In order to attract and retain our talent, Putnam Plastics offers competitive compensation and benefit programs that can be tailored to meet the needs of individual employees and their families. We also recognize and reward high performance both individually and as an organization. Several incentive programs exist that recognize employee commitment to our success including an attendance bonus and a quarterly production bonus based on achieving company metrics.

Professional Development - With our continuous growth, Putnam Plastics has the ability to provide many employees with development opportunities most other companies are not able to provide. We value promoting from within and are dedicated to helping our employees meet their own individual goals and aspirations. Putnam Plastics also offers tuition reimbursement for eligible employees.

Work/Life Balance – Putnam Plastics understands the importance of employees finding a balance between the demands of their careers and their lives outside work. As a result, Putnam offers other benefit programs to help employees achieve this balance. An onsite fitness facility is available for eligible employees and dependents. Our onsite Wellness Coordinator also offers daily fitness classes, personalized health coaching, and smoking cessation assistance. Annual biometric screenings, an onsite weekly farmer's market, and other wellness focused programs are also made available to employees.
